Russ Say Yugo Ally Of West

Brand Tito As Enemy Of Soviet Union

Moscow, Aug. 12—(AP)—Russia today branded Yugoslavia as an enemy of the Soviet Union and an ally of foreign capitalists.

In a note to Belgrade, Russia charged that the Yugoslav government is in a bloc with the western powers and "more and more is joining up with imperialist circles against the U.S.S.R."

"Let the people of Yugoslavia know," the Russian note said, "the Soviet government looks on the present Yugoslav government not as a friend and ally but as an enemy and adversary of the Soviet Union."

The note was the fourth in a series of bitter diplomatic exchanges over what the government of Premier Marshal Tito regards as Russia's abandonment of Yugoslav territorial claims at the recent Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Paris.

The Kremlin attack on Yugoslavia made public by the Moscow radio, said the Tito government, as early as April, 1947, was willing to abandon its basic claims for Austrian territory as compensation for war losses, but wanted to test the responsibility for this decision to the Soviet government.

(At the Paris conference, Russia sided with the United States, Britain and France in rejecting Yugoslavia's claim for a slice of Southern Austria. Prior to that meeting, the Soviet Union had supported the Yugoslav demands.)

At Odds For Year
(The Soviet note referred to Yugoslavia as an "enemy" for the first time despite the fact Tito and the Kremlin have been at political odds for more than a year. In June, 1948, Tito and his top communist lieutenants were ousted from the confederation-Russia's network of eastern European satellites—for alleged deviations from the Marxist-Leninist line as laid down by Moscow.)

In London, diplomatic observers wondered whether this latest outbreak of name-calling might be a forerunner of a sharper Russian policy against Yugoslavia.

(Tito alleged his troops in Yugoslavia Macedonia last week—between communist Bulgaria and Albania—and charged his Soviet-dominated neighbors were spreading rumors of a possible Red army invasion there. The official Yugoslav news agency quoted Tito as dismissing the rumors as attempted intimidation, but he warned his army was prepared to fight an invader. Tito also predicted Bulgaria and Albania would repudiate the confederation.)

Published Letter
Moscow published a letter from Edward Kardelj, Yugoslav foreign minister dated, April 20, 1947, in which he offered variations on the minimum Yugoslav demands on Austria. In effect, it reduced Yugoslavia's claims to a small strip of territory containing two electric power stations.

After Yugoslavia was ousted from the confederation, Russia and her eastern allies applied an economic squeeze to the Balkan nation. Early this month Yugoslavia and Italy signed a one-year trade agreement calling for an exchange of $93,000,000 worth of goods. There also have been other signs that Tito is seeking western trade ties to help him overcome the pressure of the eastern boycott.

Struck Bell Plant Scene Of Rally By Sympathizers

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 12—(AP)—A mass rally of union sympathizers was staged today at the Bell Aircraft plant and acts of violence were reported for the first time in a two-month-old strike of CIO United Auto Workers.

Police said several persons reported they had been beaten. Three on some automobiles were slashed and one motorist was arrested for "deliberately blocking" a highway near the plant, police added.

A picket said his leg was injured as he was knocked down by an automobile crushing the picket line.

A crowd of union supporters, estimated by a union leader at 7,500 and by a company spokesman at less than 3,000, assembled near the plant this morning.

The rally was staged at the start of the second day of the company's effort to resume production despite the strike by UAW Local 501, which claims to represent 1,700 of the company's 3,000 employees.

DIES OF INJURIES
Hammond, Ind., Aug. 12—(AP)—Alphonse Peters, 32, of Chicago, who fractured his neck diving at a Cedar Lake beach Wednesday, died in St. Margaret's hospital today.

Believe Commie Greek Guerrillas Fleeing To Albania

With the Greek army at Kozani, Greece, Aug. 12—(AP)—Communist guerrilla bands were believed fleeing into Albania tonight after the American-trained Greek army had ripped into the heart of their Vitsi mountain stronghold in 48 hours of heavy fighting.

Government troops, smashing through the main guerrilla defenses from the East and South, pushed forward into the core of the enemy's 400-square-mile Vitsi triangle fortress.

The goal of the current push—coupled with the offensive farther north in the Mount Grammos area—is to blast out two key communist strongholds along the Albanian border.

The brunt of the army's attack on the Vitsi position turned westward today. Greek officers believed they might overrun the vital juncture of the guerrillas' Albanian supply route with the Florina-Kastoria highway. This road has been kept closed by guerrilla defenders for more than a year.

Announce Truman Has Four Speaking Engagements Soon

Washington, Aug. 12—(AP)—The White House today announced four speaking engagements for President Truman, including talks on Labor Day, Sept. 5, at Pittsburgh, Pa., and Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. Truman will speak before the Golden Jubilee National convention of the veterans of foreign wars in Miami, Fla., at 10:30 a.m. (CST), Aug. 22.

On Monday, Aug. 23, the President will address the 31st annual convention of the American Legion in convention hall at Philadelphia at 1 p.m. (CST). Prior to the speech he will attend a luncheon in the Bellevue-Stratford hotel. There he will receive the legion's distinguished service medal and probably make a few informal remarks.

On Labor Day, the President will address the Allegheny free fair at Pittsburgh around 11 a.m. (CST). He will fly from there to Des Moines where he will address the annual convention of the Amvets, American veterans of World War II, in late afternoon.

2 Married Couples Agree To Switch Husbands, Wives

Burbank, Calif., Aug. 12—(AP)—Two married couples agreed they had the wrong mates and decided on a friendly swap. The final trade will take place Sunday.

This is the way they went about it: Frances Bolsford, 28, won a divorce in Las Vegas last Friday from John Bolsford, charging cruelty.

On the following Monday, Wilma Mayfield divorced Don Mayfield, 27. That night Wilma Mayfield and John Bolsford were married at the Las Vegas Methodist church.

That left Frances Bolsford and Don Mayfield. Her mother, Mrs. Frank Fredenhagen, announced in Burbank today that the couple will be married Sunday.

Both Mayfield and Bolsford live at Piru, Calif., near Santa Paula. There are three children involved in the situation. The court awarded Wilma Mayfield custody of Shirley, 4, and Jacqueline, 13 months. Frances Bolsford received custody of her 7-year-old son, William.

Baby Coughs Up Bell He Swallowed

Milwaukee, Aug. 12—(AP)—Every time five-month-old Jay Wallace opened his mouth to cry, his mother heard a tinkle.

Then he began to choke. Hastily, Mrs. Joseph Wallace pried open his mouth. She found he'd swallowed a tiny bell, apparently off a rattle.

Mrs. Wallace rushed Jay to County Emergency hospital. He'd need an operation, she thought. But Jay solved his own problem. He coughed, out popped the bell, and back home he went.

Goodwin told a reporter the same procedure is planned eventually for sections where there is seven percent unemployment.

Probers Hear S. Symington Testifies U.S. Safety Needs B-36 Bomber

VOTES TO TAKE STRAIN OFF TRUMAN'S ARM

Washington, Aug. 12—(AP)—The House voted to take some of the strain off President Truman's writing arm.

It passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing the president to delegate to subordinates some of the functions of his office, such as signing documents.

Police Maintain Guard On Struck Springfield Paper

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 12—(AP)—A 24-hour police guard was maintained throughout the day at the struck Springfield newspapers Inc. plant today as an aftermath of an explosion that shattered the windows of the building yesterday.

Police reported no new violence. Yesterday's blast was the second act of violence that has occurred here since members of the International Typographers' union went out on strike July 11. Last Tuesday a non-union printer, Kenneth Weaver, reported he had been attacked by a man in a restaurant near the plant.

Charles L. "Chick" Raina, a truck driver, appeared voluntarily yesterday and pleaded innocent on a charge of common assault. His case was set for Aug. 19.

Three plate glass windows in the pressroom were shattered in the blast yesterday. Newspaper officials said the presses were not damaged.

The newspapers have offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the persons who dynamited the plant.

Ring Found On Man Identified As One Stolen In Oconto

Chicago, Aug. 12—(AP)—Police at Oconto, Wis., today identified tentatively a $1,500 ring found on a man arrested in Chicago as one stolen in Oconto.

Chicago police yesterday seized Frank Gutierrez, 21, of Baraboo, Wis., after he blew his automobile horn steadily driving through the loop.

After questioning him, police said Gutierrez told them he had taken two wrist watches and a ring in a burglary in Oconto. He also said, police reported, that he bought a car Wednesday from the capital garage in Madison, Wis., using a worthless check.

Gutierrez is being held for further questioning.

Seize Negroes Who Held Man Hostage During Robbery

Gary, Ind., Aug. 12—(AP)—Gary police today seized two Negroes in a wooded area after a white man complained he had been held hostage while they robbed a tavern of $1,470.

The pair seized were Charles E. Taylor and Elgin Clark, both of Gary. Police said they found $1,470 on their persons and scattered in the woods. Two guns were found beneath nearby bushes.

Policemen Harlan Boyce and Joseph Zeller, who seized the men, said R. W. Benedict, 45, of 4159 South Western avenue, Chicago, gave this account:

"Benedict left an Indiana harbor restaurant today and as he entered his car was forced by the two men to drive them to East Chicago. There they ordered him to go inside the G. I. Joe Tavern and buy a pint of whiskey."

They followed him in and held up the tavern owner, Joseph Slacian, 28. They tied him behind or after warning Slacian: "don't follow or we will shoot an innocent man."

They drove to Gary with Benedict in the car. Near the woods, they got out and tossed Benedict $5 "to buy some gas."

But in Montgomery, City Detective Capt. Lewis Miller and State Prison Director Frank Boswell flatly denied Williams' charges.

The negro told the Chicago Judge he was sentenced in Montgomery on a charge of stealing a watch, but Capt. Miller said police don't even have a record of him here. Kilby prison files showed the negro was sentenced in Jefferson county in 1942. Federal Judge Michael L. Troe set the negro free after hearing his story.

Testifies U.S. Safety Needs B-36 Bomber

Washington, Aug. 12—(AP)—Secretary for Air Stuart Symington today hotly denied that the multi-million dollar investment in the far-ranging B-36 atom bomber was based on "any considerations other than national security."

"An effort has been made," he said, "to show that the air force and I personally have done wrong in the purchase of the B-36."

"It is not true," Symington snapped. Assuming personal responsibility for the decision to push the controversial super-bomber program, Symington declared that it was made solely for military reasons. He said there were no political or business considerations involved.

Look For Influence
Symington gave this testimony to the House armed services committee which is investigating the B-36 project to see whether any outside pressure was brought to bear in the awarding of the plane contract to the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Co.

The inquiry was launched after Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) told the House he had heard "disturbing" reports about top defense officials and airplane makers.

Before Symington took the stand, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air force chief of staff, lashed out at the "false rumors and innuendoes," which he told the committee had damaged air force morale.

At the same time Vandenberg flatly declared that this country's possession of the atom bomb—plus the ability to "deliver it"—provides the major check on "the aggressive designs of Soviet leaders."

Just Back From Europe
The tall slender air chief who has just returned from a military survey in Europe, bluntly told the lawmakers:

"There is only one major military threat to the security of the United States and the peace of the world. It is pointless to talk in riddles—this threat comes from the Soviet Union."

Vandenberg then went on to say that "for the next few years the B-36 provides the spearhead for the ready-for-combat force in being which this country must constantly have at hand."

Although he said he was not obligated professionally to defend Symington, "I raise my voice as any man might, who hears a friend unjustly accused."

The general said the air secretary "has labored tirelessly to produce effective and economical air power for the defense of this country." He added:

"That Mr. Symington could have entertained the idea of jeopardizing the security of this country by favoring inferior airplanes for the monetary advantage of a political party or because of the personal influence of any individual manufacturer is unthinkable."

When Symington took the stand in his own defense he read a statement denying point-by-point charges first made by Rep. Van Zandt last May.

Escaped Convict's Story Of Brutality Denied By Alabama

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 12—(AP)—An escaped negro convict's story of brutality in Alabama brought denials today from prison and police authorities.

The negro, 28-year-old Andrew Williams, told a federal judge in Chicago he escaped from Arizona prison farm in Alabama six years ago after being subject to inhuman punishment in prison and in jail.

He was arrested in Chicago for extradition to Alabama to complete a 15-year robbery sentence. He had served two years when he escaped in 1942. Federal Judge Michael L. Troe set the negro free after hearing his story.

But in Montgomery, City Detective Capt. Lewis Miller and State Prison Director Frank Boswell flatly denied Williams' charges.

The negro told the Chicago Judge he was sentenced in Montgomery on a charge of stealing a watch, but Capt. Miller said police don't even have a record of him here. Kilby prison files showed the negro was sentenced in Jefferson county in 1942. Federal Judge Michael L. Troe set the negro free after hearing his story.

Operators Fail In Attempt To Extend Miners' Contract

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Aug. 12—(AP)—A coal operator's negotiating committee, unsuccessful in a new attempt to extend its union contract beyond Monday, left it up to individual mine owners today whether to keep their mines open without a new pact.

Negotiators for the northern and western bituminous operators, contend their contract with John L. Lewis' union runs through Sunday. But they said they were unwilling to suggest that companies close their mines in the absence of a new agreement.

George H. Love of Pittsburgh, spokesman for the operators, said to close the mines would be "to revert to the law of the jungle." He said he thought most companies would keep their mines open as many days a week as miners would come to work.

The operators failed again today in an attempt to end the present three-day work week in the soft coal fields, and to get their contract extended for 20 months.

Margaret Mitchell Still Unconscious After Car Accident

Atlanta, Aug. 12—(AP)—Shy little Margaret Mitchell, who gathered the heroism and heartaches of the south's lost cause in "Gone With the Wind," hovered near death today, victim of a speeding car.

Police said the quiet, plump creator of the famous Civil War romance was slammed to the pavement last night by a drunken driver and dragged 15 feet.

A resident doctor at the City hospital said she remained unconscious and that her condition is critical. The hospital said "thousands of calls" made it necessary to set up a special information desk to handle queries about Atlanta's popular author.

Miss Mitchell was placed under an oxygen tent in a room adjacent to the woman's ward. Her personal physician reached the hospital shortly afterwards.

Two hardworking internes and half a dozen student nurses attended the author during the night, giving a blood transfusion. Two others were given today and Miss Mitchell was reported slightly improved.

Truman Requests Senate Okay Plan Of Reorganization

Washington, Aug. 12—(AP)—President Truman, threatened with defeat by his first two government reorganization plans, told the Senate today that if they fail the whole vast reorganization effort "will be imperiled."

Right after his letter was ready, Democratic leader Lucas of Illinois advised the Senate he will call up both plans Tuesday. The Senate executive expenditures committee has acted unfavorably on them.

Reorganization plan No. 1 would turn the federal security agency into a cabinet rank department of welfare. It would take over the public health service, the social security administration and the office of education, now under FSA.

Reorganization plan No. 2 would shift the Bureau of Employment Security, which handles jobless pay and job replacement, into the labor department.

Unless House or Senate disapproves, the plans become effective next week and anyway under the reorganization law. It gives congress 60 days after a plan is submitted to kill it by adverse vote of either chamber.

HOUSE VOTES TO PROBE CONGRESSIONAL LOBBY

Washington, Aug. 12—(AP)—The House decided today to investigate lobbyists—the people who button-hole the lawmakers to pass or kill legislation.

The action was taken by a vote in which no dissent was heard. Speaker Rayburn will appoint the seven-member investigating group, under the resolution introduced by Rep. Buchanan (D-Pa.).

Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) and Ferguson (R-Mich.) voted against recommending confirmation by the senate. Donnell wanted Clark called in for questioning, and Ferguson backed his demand.

The committee, without opposition, also approved the nomination of Senator J. Howard McGrath to succeed Clark as attorney general. McGrath is a Rhode Island Demo-

LOSES ARM TEARING DOWN THE BIG TOP

Neenah, Wis., Aug. 12—(AP)—A circus employee lost his right arm today as the result of an accident when the show was tearing down last night.

John Wade, 36, Baltimore, was injured while loading the canvas big top of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus, near Appleton. His arm was amputated today.

Stevenson Signs Controversial Bill On County Office

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 12—(AP)—The controversial bill creating the office of county assessment supervisor was signed into law today by Governor Stevenson. It goes into effect Dec. 1.

A county officials' organization already has announced it will challenge the law in a legal test.

All counties except St. Clair and Cook come under the new provisions. The state-paid supervisors will be chosen by the state revenue department from a list of three to 10 names sent in by county boards. If the department turns down two lists, the county board then makes its own selection by a two-thirds vote.

Salaries of the supervisors are based on population and will range from $2,000 to $5,000.

James R. Cannell, executive secretary of the Illinois Association of supervisors and county commissioners, said Thursday his group will bring a court test.

He said the law takes away home rule from assessing for tax purposes and gives the state too much control.

Red Says Russia Did Not Invade Poland In 1939

New York, Aug. 2—(AP)—The New York State Communist party chairman told a federal court jury today that Russia did not invade Poland in 1939.

Instead, he said, the Soviet forces liberated much of that nation and "saved tens of millions of Polish and Jewish people from death under the Nazis."

The chairman, Robert G. Thompson, one of the 11 top communists on trial on conspiracy charges, also denied that Germany and Russia divided Poland.

Thompson made his statements under cross-examination by government Attorney Frank H. Gordon, shortly before leaving the witness stand. He was the fourth defendant to testify, and the 17th witness called by the defense in the trial, which completed its 30th week today.

No Quick End To Chicago Gas Strike Seen As Talks End

Chicago, Aug. 12—(AP)—Chicago's day old strike of gasoline truck drivers seemed certain to last over the weekend after a conciliation session broke up today without agreement.

However, no drought of gasoline for motorists appeared imminent. Stations served by 110 independent trucks who have agreed to union terms are getting their regular supplies.

The 110 truckers supply some 600 stations of the 3,000 in the Chicago area, a union official said.

Drivers of trucks supplying filling stations struck yesterday in support of demands for a 17 1/2 cents an hour raise. The oil companies countered with an offer of seven and one-half cents. Current wage of the drivers is $1.77 an hour.

A two-hour meeting today arranged by federal conciliator Howland Plank broke off at noon with no concessions on either side. Present at the meeting were representatives of the AFL Teamsters Local 708 and of more than 150 trucking concerns, including major oil companies.

Senate Group Endorses Clark For Supreme Court

Washington, Aug. 12—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Clark's nomination to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court got a 9-to-2 endorsement today from the senate judiciary committee.

Invoices Show Many Given Away

Washington, Aug. 12—(AP)—Invoices brought to the Senate's "five percent" hearing—but not introduced—showed home freezers sent to Mrs. Harry S. Truman at Independence, Mo., and two to Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan in Washington, a committee member said tonight.

Three other Washingtonians received freezers, the vouchers reportedly showed. All the units were paid for by the Albert Verley Co., Chicago perfume makers, it was testified yesterday.

The other invoices listed as recipients Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, Federal Reserve Governor James K. Vardaman, and Presidential Secretary Matt Connelly, the senator told a reporter. In 1945, when the reported shipments began, Vinson was reconversion director and later secretary of the treasury. Vardaman was President Truman's naval aide.

Margen With Firm
John Margen, whose name has been threaded through the inquiry into alleged "influence" in the government, was then with the perfume firm.

The invoices were brought to yesterday's session by Albert J. Gross of Milwaukee. The businessman said he shipped units to a group of Washingtonians. He named Vaughan, then his testimony was halted.

A committee member said today he was informed Mrs. Truman sent a thank-you note to Gross, though he was merely the shipper. The member was uncertain whether Treasury Secretary Snyder was on Gross' list, as stated in one report.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) already had told reporters that Gross was "entirely in the clear."

"I have seen the list of people who reportedly received freezer units, as published in the newspapers," McCarthy added. "My only comment is that George Allen should not be on this list."

Some reports had said that Allen, long-time presidential intimate and former director of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, was on the list.

As a White House spokesman said today "no information" on these stories, the sensation-spangled hearing on Capitol Hill produced:

1. Charges that Maj. Gen. Aiden Waitt, chief of the army chemical corps, plotted with Vaughan, the president's military aide, to "cut the throats" of fellow officers who might have succeeded Waitt. The chemical chief is now suspended.

2. Testimony that Waitt wrote derogatory reports for Vaughan on the eight other officers—and one warmly praising himself—in the office of James V. Hunt, key figure in the "five percent" probe.

3. A statement by Hunt's secretary that she personally carried Waitt's memo disparaging the other officers to Gen. Vaughan in the White House.

4. Announcement that Vaughan is willing to testify and "presumably" will be called—and a demand by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that he appear.

5. Evidence that Hunt, a management counselor here, had arranged word on the appointment of Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman as Quartermaster Corps chief, and passed it on to a private client with the comment: "It will not harm us in the least." Feldman, like Waitt is now under suspension by the army.

The mysterious deep-freezer bobbed up late yesterday. A Milwaukee businessman testified he shipped one to Vaughan four years ago and "several" more to Washington persons—all paid for by the Albert Verley Co. of Chicago.

SLIPS ON SAFETY LANE
Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 12—(AP)—Beeste Bostick believes safety engineers should be more careful where they draw the line.

Miss Bostick, 24, was hospitalized today with a leg injury suffered when she slipped on a freshly painted pedestrian safety lane.

A STEP IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

Another milestone has been reached on the road to military unity. Congress has approved a new measure to tighten relations among the armed services to produce greater economy and efficiency.

Merger of land, sea and air forces is still a good distance off. But the present action marks real progress toward that goal.

First of all, it embodies fiscal and budgetary reforms recommended by the Hoover Commission on government reorganization. The commission believes these changes will save $1,000,000,000 a year.

Economies in the national military establishment are highly important, because about one of every three tax dollars is now consumed by this department.

Secondly, the new bill raises the military agency to full cabinet rank as the Department of Defense. In the process, it reduces the Army, Navy and Air Force to subordinate status.

The heads of these three branches will retain their titles as secretaries but they will be subject to direction not only from the Secretary of Defense but from a newly created Undersecretary of Defense. The measure in addition establishes three new assistant defense secretaries.

The defense secretary thus gains greater authority than he now has to direct the nation's military affairs and to advise the President in such matters. But he is still far from all-powerful in his field.

He is specifically barred from transferring, reassigning, consolidating or abolishing any combatant functions now fixed by law. For example, he could not wipe out the Marine Corps or shift it to Army jurisdiction.

Furthermore, the secretary is not empowered under the new act to prevent the secretary of any military department or any member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff from presenting individual recommendations to Congress on armed forces policy.

Numerous other changes will co-ordinate various subsidiary boards more closely and enlarge the secretary's power to direct military programs.

Intelligent citizens almost certainly will applaud this bill as a step that promises to slash the high cost of operating the military establishment and at the same time to lessen the bitter intramural conflicts in that agency.

CHANGES IN THE ARMS AID BILL

President Truman has modified his $1,450,000,000 arms aid bill to meet congressional objections that it called for dangerously broad presidential discretion in using the fund.

The original bill did not specify the nations which would get the military assistance. Instead, it left the way open for dispensing aid to any country in the world that the President might deem a fitting beneficiary.

This feature of the program was widely criticized in and out of Congress. Republicans particularly took up the cry.

Quite evidently the measure is in for tough going anyway, but the failure to name the nations slated to receive arms aid looked like a tactical error big enough to kill the bill.

Critics charged that the vague grant of discretionary power to the President would allow him to involve the United States in foreign defensive programs in any quarter of the globe. They foresaw commitments that could mean war—without congressional action.

Others predicted that aid distributed as the original bill permitted would spread the nation's strength too thin for its own military safety.

Administrative sources contended the measure had been drafted in general terms because it was felt Congress might thus find it more acceptable. But the exact reverse proved true.

Whether or not that was the President's real reason for the general language, he has now beat a quick retreat. In a new bill, he has named specifically the countries marked for military help.

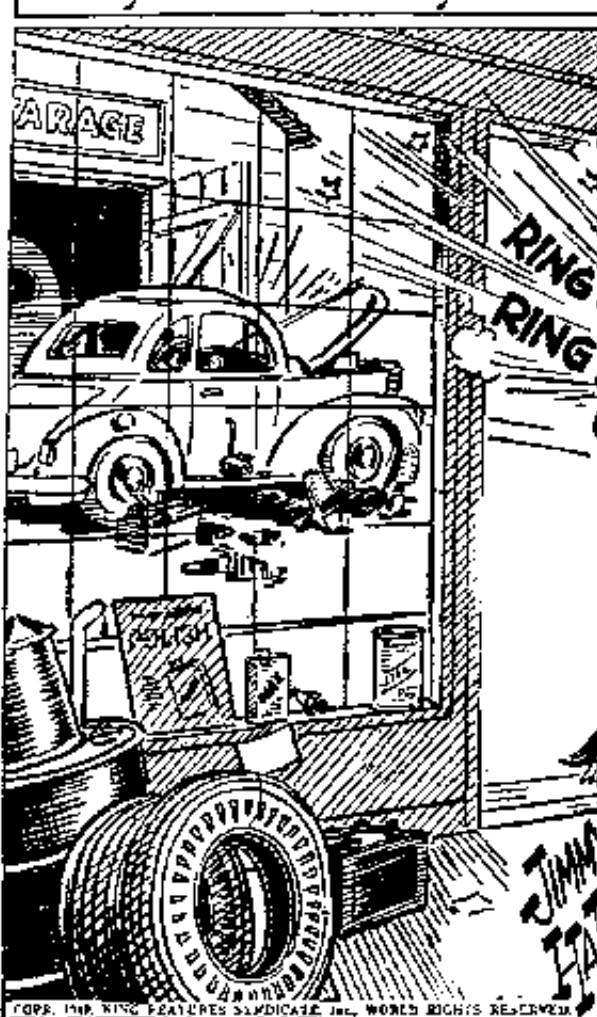

Mr. Truman's speed in correcting what may have been a major miscalculation of congressional sentiment is commendable.

In the past he has often stubbornly resisted changes recommended by his congressional leaders as necessary to win approval of his proposals. He has steadfastly clung to his original plans. And frequently he has gone down to defeat.

The President's swift yielding in this instance may be a gauge of the importance he attaches to arms aid. It may measure, too, his fear at the prospect of wrecking the bipartisan foreign policy.

His action does not assure approval of the assistance program. Stout opposition remains. But at least Mr. Truman has made it possible for Congress to consider arms aid without distracting worry over a vague grant of power that has no place in the bill.

She Doesn't Know Her Own Strength

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Men fall head over heels for hazel-eyed Gale Vance. She really throws them.

One reason they find this attractive blonde so irresistible is that she teaches jujitsu and judo. Miss Vance is one of the few lady instructors in these bone-bending pastimes.

"Jujitsu is really just a sport," she said. "But judo is the science of dirty fighting—you use it when you're out for the kill."

"I like to teach dirty fighting. It's the quickest way of disposing of your opponent."

Some feminine athletics are built like telephone booth. This isn't true of Gale. Her muscles are well disposed. They never bulge. They ripple. Her physical charm as well as her physical strength have won her several offers to become a professional wrestler.

"I turned them down," she said. "It is too undignified."

Toured Camps
During the war Gale was a member of a judo team that toured army camps and demonstrated deadly tricks to the troops. I saw her in Manila in 1945, and her 225-pound partner was wearing a broken wrist.

"I guess I put on a little too much pressure," said Gale, "but he should have told me I was hurting him."

Miss Vance at present is teaching jujitsu to vacationers at a resort in the Catskills.

"Many wives are eager to learn the holds," she said. "They want to be able to throw their husbands over their heads. But I teach them to throw a person over their hips instead. It's much easier."

Jujitsu, incidentally, has a number of advantages for the forlorn female living in a man's world.

Way To Reduce
"It is a wonderful way to reduce," said Gale, "and a girl needs to learn only a few holds to be able to deal with maulers and muggers."

What is the best way for a lady to cope with an annoying subway wolf?

"If you want to discourage him quietly without making a scene," said Gale, "one way is to put your heel on his shinbone and press down—hard."

"An elbow is a very handy article. You just give him the sharp end of it in his face. If he's a tall guy and you can't reach his face, jam the elbow fast into his solar plexus or his ribs. You'd be surprised how easy a rib breaks. Of course the knee is always good, too, but you have to be in the right position to use it."

"Generally I try to teach the girls how to get away from a man—rather than to kill the guy."

Once Miss Vance was bothered herself by a Broadway mauler. She finally turned on him and said:

"You're my everything!"

"You're my everything!"

"You're my everything!"

"You're my everything!"

"You're my everything!"

SOCIAL SECURITY AND YOU

(This series of questions and answers is presented in order that you may be better informed about the operations of Federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance. Additional questions should be directed to the Social Security Administration at Springfield. Mrs. Margaret Chavin, Social Security Representative, is in Jacksonville each Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the U. S. Employment office.)

Q. I have been getting $15 a month from my social security but that is not enough to live on. I applied for the old-age pension and they tell me that they will have to take off my social security from that. Can they do that?

A. Yes. Old-age pensions are based on a person's need and since social security payments are considered income, they are taken into account when figuring the amount of the old-age assistance pension. Your social security payment, however, is insurance and will be paid to you regardless of need.

Q. If I should die, leaving no widow, children, or family of any kind, who gets my social security payment?

A. Assuming that you would have worked long enough under social security to qualify, the person or persons who pay your funeral expenses would receive a lump-sum death payment based on your earnings.

Q. I have a social security card in my maiden name, but recently I got married. Do I have to get a new card?

A. You should have the social security records changed to show your married name. A new card will be given to you bearing your new name and your old social security number. Each worker should have only one social security number during his entire lifetime.

Q. I find that I have two social security cards, each with a different number. I don't remember how I got two. What should I do with them?

A. One number must be returned to the Social Security Administration for cancellation. You should retain the one social security number you have used on your job and wages credited to the cancelled number will be transferred to the active account. It is important that you have only one number to insure proper crediting of all earnings under social security.

Q. My husband died last month, after working for a large concern here for many years. I'm 55 years old, and have no young children. Do I get anything for his social security?

A. Yes, you would receive a lump-sum death payment now. Then, when you are 65 you would be entitled to monthly payments, if you have not remarried.

Q. When my husband died last year, I received a lump-sum from his social security. I was 61 years old then and my friends tell me that I should be getting monthly payments now. Is that correct?

A. No. Since you were not yet 65 when your husband died, you were entitled to the lump-sum death payment only. You will become entitled to monthly payments when you are 65, provided you have not remarried. The law does not give you the option of choosing the type of payment you will receive. The conditions which exist at the time of death determine the type of payment to be made.

Pleats, Plaid and Plain, Register for Class

Permanent pleats will spread their charm over the campus. Plaid wool skirt takes boxed pleats and a jaunty reefer of solid color wool fleece (left). Solid colored jersey skirt unfurls knife pleats beneath long-torso blouse of multi-color wool jersey (right).

New York —(NEA)—Permanent pleats are science's gift this fall to the school girl.

Pleats educated to stay creased by baking-at-high-temperature processes will spread their charms over classrooms and campuses at no extra cost for upkeep. A promise of this good behavior for six months to skirts with knife pleats, box pleats or accordion pleats—in a written guarantee of California designer Stephanie Koret.

Well aware that a school girl can keep down the size and cost of her wardrobe with switchback units, this designer makes "separates" of pleated skirts and of tops that oblige all down the line from blouses to reefers.

barber's pole in two-toned colors, such blouses were designed to be the gay upper half of pleated skirt-fashions. Typical styling of these is seen in the solid color wool jersey skirt, knife-pleated to look as straight as a plumb line when static, as fluted as an unfurled fan when it goes into action.

Box-pleated skirts with creases that stay as sharp as a gent's freshly pressed pants flaunt their permanence in all-woolen clay plaids. These invite both crepe and jersey blouses and fleecy reefers as campus companions. Reefers in a choice of colors are made to look their jauntest with hand-span pockets, slot openings and gold shank buttons.

Hearing Institute For Nurses Will Open Next Monday

The Illinois School for the Deaf in this city will be the scene of a specialized training institute in hearing conservation, which will be attended by about 30 nurses. The school will begin next Monday and will continue for ten days.

First of its kind to be sponsored and conducted by public agencies of Illinois, the institute is the result of combined planning by staff members of the school for the deaf, operated by the state department of public health, the division of public health nursing of the state department of public health and the University of Illinois division of services for crippled children.

Announcement of the institute was made by public health and welfare agencies, serving as a committee on hearing conservation for the Illinois commission for handicapped children. The project is designed to help the public health nurse in her regular activities as these include dealing with the need of medical and hearing rehabilitation.

Invitations have been issued to public health nurses in organized county health departments and to nurses of schools in which plans are under way for local hearing rehabilitation programs.

The institute program will combine lectures by specialists in the hearing field along with practical laboratory experience in the use of equipment for testing hearing. The instruction staff will include Dr. M. L. Lasky, Galesburg otologist; Marian Quinn, clinical audiologist of the University of Illinois special education division; and Jane Louise Irwin, of the Illinois eye and ear infirmary staff.

Tankage Costly; More Soybean Meal Advised

Urbana—If your hogs are on good pasture, you may be able to save a little in feed costs by using more soybean oil meal in the ration and cutting down the tankage or meat scraps.

Dick Carlisle, Illinois College of Agriculture livestock specialist, reported that at present a pound of protein costs less in soybean meal than in tankage. And tests at the Ohio Experiment station showed that, with plenty of good pasture, soybean meal is just as good as tankage to supplement a ration of corn and minerals.

Carlisle suggests this mixture for pigs over 75 pounds: 10 pounds of tankage or meat scraps, 70 pounds of soybean meal, 15 pounds of ground oats, and 5 pounds of a simple mineral mixture.

He says that pigs weighing 75 pounds or more may eat more soybean meal than they need to balance their ration and thus increase the cost of feeding. To avoid this, you should add 15 pounds of oats so that the feed won't taste quite so good.

Propose Repaving U. S. Route 67 In Big Road Project

Widening and repaving U. S. Route 67, which extends from northern Illinois to St. Louis, passing through Jacksonville, has been proposed in a $40,000,000 highway improvement project sponsored by the American Automobile Association.

U. S. Route 67 carries heavy traffic from Rock Island through Macomb, Beardstown, Jacksonville, Alton and on to East St. Louis.

Four-lane highways between Rock Island and Chicago, and from Rock Island to Danville are included in the big project, which was presented and discussed Wednesday at a conference in the LeClair hotel at Rock Island. James E. Bulger, vice president of the Chicago Motor Club, an affiliate of the American Automobile Association, was the principal speaker.

According to the club's plan, money for the project designed to extend over a 20 year period would be raised by a one cent boost in the state gasoline tax which, is estimated, would net approximately $20,000,000. This amount, Mr. Bulger told the Rock Island audience of city officials and legislators, would be matched by an equal federal grant.

At its meeting July 16, the board of the Chicago Motor Club passed a resolution favoring the plan, including the modernization of a number of the state's most heavily traveled highways, and forwarded copies to Governor Stevenson and officials of the state highway department.

Buck White Takes Lead In World Golf Meet At Tam

Chicago, Aug. 12 — (AP) — Buck White's seven-under-par 65 today gave him a halfway total of 135 and the lead by a whisker in a bunch of par-busters sprinting for the $10,000 first prize of the Tam O'Shanter world golf meet.

A pro for 30 years, White coupled his blistering 34-31-65 with an opening round 70 which left him nine under par. Despite this superb shooting, the Greenwood, Miss., veteran, could boast only a one-stroke edge over Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., and only a two-stroke margin over four other money bounds clustered at 137.

White, who lost to Byron Nelson in a playoff for 1943 Tam honors, needed only 28 putts in fashioning his 65, lowest second round tally which was matched by defending Champion Lloyd Mangrum.

Palmer, a three-year serial runner in the Pacific war theater, batted a 69 after starting with 67 to total 136. Palmer, fourth leading money winner of the season and runner-up for the 1949 National P.G.A. title, dropped in a 10-foot birdie putt on the last hole to gain second place.

Deadlocked in third with 137 were Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., with a 71 after a first round leading 66; Henry Ransom of Chicago with 70; Jimmy Demaret of Olaj, Calif., 68 and Jim Thomas of Briarcliff, N. Y., 69.

Grouped at 138 were Ed Furgol, Royal Oaks, Mich., with a 70 today; Bob Hamilton, Landover, Md., 35-66; and Sam Snead, who topped the financial list with $25,893, with a rallying pair of 33's for 68. Snead was far behind in the par-busting jubilee after a standard 72 yesterday.

Walcott Meets Sweden's Champ Tandberg Sunday

Stockholm, Aug. 12 — (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott, a three-time loser in 12 bouts for the world heavyweight boxing title, will meet Sweden's champion Ole Tandberg at the Rasunda Soccer stadium here Sunday.

Jersey Joe is confident of success. But the strong, slow-going Transgers has proved a giant killer in the past. He defeated Joe Basili, another American, in the same arena two years ago.

The fight is scheduled for 12 rounds and local experts think Walcott will win on points. Tandberg never has been knocked out.

At 35, Walcott is more experienced and has more punching power than Tandberg, who is only 29 and is clever but punchless boxing.

Known for his physical strength and the Camden, N. J., visitor has become extremely popular. A crowd of 10,000 watched him train the other day, autograph hunters chase him everywhere. He complained of a shaky right hand in a recent interview, saying "I have had to write my signature too often."

GRAINS DIP, THEN RALLY IN TRADING; NOT MUCH CHANGE

Chicago, Aug. 12 — (AP) — Grains dipped during the first half of the session and then rallied in the last half on the board of trade today. The net result was another dull day without much change in price.

Chief features was selling of September corn against purchases of the deferring months, largely by professional traders.

Soybeans rallied toward the close but had a weak undertone all day, influenced in part by the sharp drop in hog prices for one day in several weeks.

Receipts were wheat 25 cars, corn 37, oats 32, rye 9, barley 22, soybeans 23.

Wheat closed 1-11 lower, September $2.02, corn was 15 lower to 1 higher, September $1.21-1, oats were 1 lower to 1 higher, September 68-65, rye was 1 to 1 lower, September $1.44, soybeans were 1 lower to 1 higher, November $2.37-2.37, and hard was 7 to 27 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $12.35.

House Of Clay, Quincy Advance Into Finals Of A.S.A. Tournament

Two colored teams, the House of Clay and the Quincy American Legion won last night in the Southside park to qualify for the finals of the A.S.A. sectional tournament Sunday night. Winner of the tournament will advance to the state tournament in Danville.

In the first game, Nesbitt's six hits still pulled him through over losing pitcher Blakeman who gave but four.

Myers Bros. scored the first tally in the second inning. Their score came when Morris doubled, and Stroud drove him in with a single.

Though they threatened in the sixth and seventh, they were unable to put the tying or winning run across the sack.

House of Clay had its big inning in the sixth, after trailing Myers for four. A single by Banks, followed by two costly errors put two runs across the plate.

The second game was marked by exceptional pitching by Bobby Gordon of Quincy. He struck out 14 men and allowed but two hits. The two Pittsfield tallies came in the fifth and sixth.

Quincy got its first run in the second inning after a single by Rude then Gordon, the pitcher slammed out a three bagger to bring him in.

A capacity crowd witnessed the two games under the lights.

The playoff will be Sunday night at 8:45 when the House of Clay meets Quincy American Legion. A consolation game between Myers Bros. and Pittsfield will be played at 7:30.

THE STORY: Gaynel Teare is the breadwinner for her family, which was once well-to-do but now reduced to moderate circumstances. Her mother, Emily, is constantly taking up new projects some of which are a drain on finances. As present the little Theater movement. Her brother, Denny, never keeps a job, and Pat, the younger sister, is only 14. The whole family expects Gaynel to marry Harry Blairbridge, a young millionaire. Gaynel suddenly wonders if she will, she has just met another young man, far from a millionaire, but this man, Fritz Prehman, is a lot of fun. Denny, Gaynel's brother, has just told his most recent job and is borrowing money from her.

perfectly willing to let Gaynel be the "Master" of the house and do the worrying.

A NOTHER knock came at her door. She had managed to pull on sheer hose and wriggle into beige evening sandals and start on her hair, but she'd never be ready.

"Come in."

"Darling!" Her mother crossed the room in a little rush of swishes and swirls. "I've had such a lovely afternoon! Such an interesting group of people, too. How do you like Melvin, darling? If you knew the brain that young man has! So full of ideas!"

She removed her shoes, lay back against the pillows, hands behind her head, aware of the pretty picture she made—Lady Relaxing—and giggled her toes.

"You're going out, darling!" Mrs. Teare's conversations consisted mostly of monologues. She seldom gave anyone else a chance to talk, nor did she wait for answers. "And with Harry, of course."

"I could go out with someone else, I presume," Gaynel said. It was exasperating the way the family took the Barry business as settled and stamped.

Gaynel did not stop to think that perhaps she had taken it for granted, too. Until the advent of a certain outrageous young man.

"Of course, darling. You could have any number of young men. But of course Barry is much the wisest. I'm frightfully fond of him."

"Would you be," Gay asked, "if he didn't have some 20-odd millions in his own name and expect to inherit about double that amount one of these fine days?"

"YOUNG man downstairs now," Kobee stated from the doorway. "Young man with fine present for Miss Gay."

"Barry, of course, the darling!" Kobee strove to maintain dignity. "Young man not Mr. Barry. It is young man Kobee never see before."

It was Fritz. Wearing his most disarming and persuasive grin, holding a covered wicker basket in his two hands. "Greetings, Madame!" He bowed low in the Armand manner. "Accept this humble token of my esteem, I beg of you."

Gaynel accepted the basket and opened it. "How lovely!" she cried. "Two kittens!" Two little whip-cream balls, blinking sleepy green eyes as they looked up at their new mistress. One sporting a blue bow, the other pink. "The darlings!" Gaynel squealed. "The witches. The perfect lumps!" She scooped them up in both hands, holding a soft, silky coat to each cheek. Her eyes looked into Fritz's; they both began to laugh.

"Oh, there you are, Barry!" Mrs. Teare said loudly. "Do come on in!" She went forward to greet the young man to whom Kobee had just opened the door. She linked an arm in his, leading him forward.

"Here's Barry, darling. And you aren't dressed! And Gaynel, dear, aren't you going to introduce your mother to this—er, person?"

Barry and Fritz shook hands after Gaynel introduced Fritz to everyone.

She was struck by the contrast between them: Fritz so stocky and blond; Barry, lean and dark and polished.

"Of course we'll keep the kittens, Fritz," she said. "The dogs may not like them but my sister Pat will adore them. It's a shame I'll have to rush off now. I'm sorry, but I think I told you I have another engagement this evening."

Fritz looked downcast.

"We'd like to have you join us, if you care to," Barry put in quickly, with his ready politeness. Fritz gave him his most engaging grin, and said, "I'd be delighted."

"Dear me," Emily said, "how can you manage two men, darling?"

"You'll be surprised!" Gaynel smiled.

Finland Sneezes Go On And On

Helsinki, Finland—(UP)—Finland is not to be sneezed at when it comes to sneezing. A man named Pelkonen, of Tampere, Finland, has been sneezing for half of his 40 years—without interruption, to be sure. For two or three days, maybe a week, he is normal. Then it starts, and he sneezes 1,500-2,000 times a day. The sneezing is accompanied by a bad headache and some fever.

Dr. Eric Nyberg, of a Helsinki hospital, explained that Pelkonen a metal-worker, appears to enjoy generally good health, but the sneezing recurs without fail—and Pelkonen returns to hospital.

There he is put to bed and given "asthma" treatment. The affliction, the doctor said, is an allergy, a form of nasal catarrh, caused by the veins in the nose.

The first U. S. ice making machines were invented in 1850.

Plans 6,000-Foot Dive Into Ocean In Steel Sphere

Smuggler's Cove, Calif., Aug. 12—(AP)—A Boston marine scientist may dive deeper into the black depths of the ocean tomorrow than man has ever gone before.

Otis Barton, 48, Harvard-trained engineer, hopes to descend 6,000 feet in a cast steel ball, called a Benthoscope, dangling from a steel cable. At that depth water pressure would be 27,000,000 pounds on the benthoscope.

Barton and Dr. William Beebe of the New York Zoological society already hold the world's deep diving record, 3,028 feet in a bathysphere off Bermuda in 1934. Barton hopes to nearly double that depth tomorrow.

Vessels of the little fleet engaged in the project gathered tonight at this cove on Santa Cruz island, 26 miles south of Santa Barbara. Early tomorrow they'll put out to the spot in the Santa Cruz basin where the deepest water was found by electric fathometers.

The venture is a project of the Allan Hancock foundation for scientific research of the University of Southern California.

The sphere has been tested at 2,000 feet, and Barton has been down in it 500 feet.

Attendance Light At First Day Of State Fair In Springfield

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 12—(AP)—The 10-day Illinois State Fair started today and sharp eyed judges got busy right away handing out blue ribbons.

A few hours after Gov. Stevenson officially opened the big agricultural show, a Springfield woman began collecting prizes in culinary competition.

Mrs. Lydia MacDonald, a perennial winner in cookery events, was awarded top honors for her entries in the chocolate jelly roll, pecan roll, mints and assorted candies divisions.

She competed in the professional class for persons who have exhibited nine or more years.

Mrs. Merle Seaton of Taylorville took first with her caramels and English Toffee.

It was Children's Day at the fair but kids were scarce than in former years. Springfield youngsters under 16 were prevented from coming by a police quarantine restricting them to home premises. The fairgrounds is not quarantined.

Many of the 5,000 free carnival ride tickets the governor brought along to the ribbon slipping ceremony went begging. Threatening weather played a part in holding down attendance.

After opening the fair, Stevenson cruised in his car through the 366-acre grounds, stopping first for a peek at the "Your Illinois" exhibit, depicting state government operations.

At the U.S. Navy exhibit, he saw cutaway models showing the working apparatus of radar equipment, torpedoes and artillery fuses. The governor was afflicting at his first state fair.

Elsewhere on the grounds, judging of farm products, 4-H club demonstrations and quarter horse races featuring speedy western ponies were held.

Attracting considerable attention among farm products was a stalk of corn measuring 23 feet 8 inches. It lay stretched out across five display counters because there wasn't enough room to stand it up.

The giant stalk was shown by Dave Malone, 70, who farms near Oglesby in LaSalle county. Last year Malone entered a four-foot cucumber weighing 13 pounds.

The fair program expands tomorrow, "all-illinois day," when the first livestock events get underway. Competition among market barrows starts the ball rolling, along with beef steer judging in the junior department.

The 1949 typical Illinois farm family will be chosen. Fourteen families, each a regional victor chosen in an area poll conducted by a local newspaper, will vie for a new automobile and an expense paid period at the fair.

Also on Saturday's program are the accordion band contest, a futurity horse show, an all-illinois harness racing card, the Illinois rural chorus festival and a performance of the WLS barn dance.

Churchill Tells Europe To Unite To Prevent Wars

Strasbourg, France, Aug. 12—(AP)—Winston Churchill told the townspeople of this war-scarred city tonight that Europe must unite in strength so great "that none will dare molest her tranquility."

Such a united Europe would be based on moral convictions that would win the gratitude of all mankind, he told an outdoor rally of the European Movement which he heads.

The wartime prime minister of Britain made his current keynote speech on European union to the people after he had spent two days wrangling in the first consultative assembly of the European council for the assembly's right to parliamentary freedom.

Police guarded canal bridges between Churchill's rally and a communist protest gathering half a mile away. There was no violence.

MacArthur Invited To Give His Views On Arms Aid Bill

Washington, Aug. 12—(AP)—Climaxing angry debate, the combined Senate committees on foreign relations and armed services voted 13 to 12 today to invite General Douglas MacArthur to testify at the foreign arms aid hearing.

The vote came on a resolution of Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) who is trying to get $117,500,000 of the proposed $145,000,000 arms fund earmarked for non-communist China.

Before this action, MacArthur in Tokyo made it clear he is not returning at this time. He said he is needed more where he is. He also said his command has not included China anyway.

Later, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said the two groups will begin work of clearing the bill on Tuesday. He said witnesses who had asked to be heard will be allowed to file their statements for the record, but no more testimony will be taken. He noted that full hearings had been held by the House Foreign Affairs committee. Presumably if MacArthur decided to accept the invitation, arrangements would be changed.

American Red Cross Sends Aid To Ecuador

The American National Red Cross headquarters at Washington, D. C., has set aside $50,000.00 for emergency needs to the sufferers in the Ecuador earthquake. The Red Cross has already sent specific medications to this disaster area. These were procured from the army medical depot in the Canal Zone and flown to Ecuador.

A survey made by the army headed by Col. E. J. Eyerly and a Red Cross representative, Karl Kreib, reports seven towns totally or partially destroyed with thousands dead. The towns listed were Ambato, Pelileo, Cabellos, Píllaro, Guano, Salcedo, and Patate.

Sent Maurice Ready

On August 9, national headquarters sent Maurice Ready, veteran disaster relief director who in 1942 and 1944 conferred with the Ecuador Red Cross in planning its disaster relief program and E. H. Russell, director of the operations in the Caribbean to the scene of the disaster. Mr. Ready is known by Red Cross workers in Jacksonville and Morgan county as the man who assisted with the terrible Mississippi and Illinois river flood disaster in the early 1920s. Mr. Ready had his headquarters in Jacksonville for a few days at which time he was director of the disaster emergency and rehabilitation for the flood sufferers.

Needed Supplies Sent

All needed supplies from the American National Red Cross will be sent from the army depot in Panama to save time and transportation costs. Inquiries about American army and air force personnel and civilians attached to either should be addressed respectively to the Adjutant General's Office of the U. S. Air Force in Washington. Inquiries from Ecuadorian nationals about relatives in the disaster area should go to the Ecuadorian embassy in Washington. Inquiries from American citizens should go to the Division of Protective Services, Department of State, Washington, D. C. With a statement that the inquirer is an American citizen and will authorize cable expenses. A report from the State Department says that all American citizens known to them are safe.

This information was received in the local Red Cross Chapter today from national headquarters and sent to the chapter's chairman, Mr. R. J. Kaufmann.
